

Call for Abstracts

Energy Modelling Platform for Europe (EMP-E) 2019 – Modelling the Implementation of A Clean Planet for All Strategy

The Horizon 2020 Energy modelling group hereby opens the call for poster abstracts and invites you to contribute to the themes that will be discussed at the 3rd Energy Modelling Platform for Europe (EMP-E) 2019 – Modelling the Implementation of A Clean Planet for All Strategy, which will be held on October 8th and 9th, 2019.

Contributions should be in line with the key themes of the EMP-E 2019:

- Modelling techniques;
- Behavioural aspects and the role of citizens and local authorities in energy modelling;
- Energy and climate strategy, targets and scenarios;
- Investments and RES deployment.

The template for abstracts is available here and the submissions of posters abstracts can be done through the registration webform.

The deadline for submission of poster abstracts is April 26th, 2019.

You will receive notification on the acceptance of poster abstracts by May 10th, 2019.

Link to the Special Issue of Energy Strategy Reviews (Elsevier) and Submission of full papers

Upon notification of acceptance of the poster abstract, authors will also have the possibility to submit a contribution to the Special Issue of Energy Strategy Reviews (Elsevier) Energy Modelling Platform for Europe (EMP-E) 2019 – Modelling the Implementation of A Clean Planet, which will be linked to the EMP-E Conference.

A description of the types of contributions accepted and instructions for the preparation of the manuscripts are available here.

Invitations and instructions for the submission of full papers will be sent together with the notification of acceptance of the abstracts by May 10th, 2019.

The deadline for the submission of full papers is September 23rd, 2019.

Contacts

For further information and queries, please contact Special-IssueEMP-E@medeas.eu.